The City Council or the event organized are public in nature, therefore any personal data that could be collected through photographic images, or audio-video recordings, will be carried out for the prevalent purpose connected and instrumental to the documentation of the event, for historical documentation and for the dissemination of the same through the means of communication, such as the website of the institution and the social networks connected to it.
The images collected will therefore be mainly aimed at the environmental context in which the public event itself takes place (main theme) and, in a merely secondary way (background or context) at the subjects present, taking care, as far as possible, not to film the faces of the subjects attending the event in the foreground or frontally.

These spaces will be clearly identified with a specific iconic notice;

- compliance with legal provisions in the case of communications due to public authorities.

The use of images is not bound by copyright.

Possible consequences of failure to provide data

Consent to the processing of data for the purposes above is free and optional. However, any refusal, to be expressed in the forms previously indicated, will imply the implicit impossibility of participating in the event.
